

New Man Story

Mark Whitaker — The Informant

Mark Whitaker was a senior executive with ADM at the age of 32. He became caught up in a price fixing scheme which attracted a great deal of public attention at the time. Although he agreed to be an informant for the FBI in their investigation of ADM (and subsequent conviction of the top executives in the company), Mark himself was also convicted and served eight years in a federal prison. He came to Christ through Chuck Colson, who visited him in prison. Mark's story is represented by Mat Damon in the excellent 2009 film, The Informant.
